

PSHE

2007/8

This year has seen the Records of Achievement being carried through to Year 7 and they will reach Year 8 in the next academic year. These enable the pupils to record and reflect on their good copies, credits, effort and exam grades and to set targets for improvement. It also enables them to keep track of their shield achievements. In this anniversary year we are seeing a return to the original concept of the shields, where they were an ongoing record of the pupils' progress throughout the school. Hopefully in the future we will be able to collate the information each term.

PSHE lessons have given children the opportunity to discuss whole school issues such as the rewards and sanctions system and issues for School Council. Pupils have discussed anti-bullying measures and friendships, considered the nature of responsibility, leadership and government, and in the summer term, Year 7 pupils were guided to apply for the role of prefect. The Schools' Liaison Police Officer has visited each term and a highlight was when the Forensic Scenes of Crime Officer talked to Year 8. The spiritual, moral, social and cultural well-being of the children was recognised as excellent in the school's inspection report.

JD