

General Knowledge

This year's General Knowledge competition began with the traditional and popular Christmas quiz which got everyone into the GK spirit! As always, there was a real buzz around the school throughout the Lent term and the new location of the GK notice board (upstairs in the library) attracted more interest than ever. Each department produced a particularly probing set of daily questions this year and the weekend sheets kept the real enthusiasts busy at the end of each week. The final was held in the theatre on Wednesday 25th March and was a keenly fought affair. Ashton achieved a hat trick, winning their third final in a row. Many congratulations to them! Every year prizes are awarded to those who score most points throughout the whole competition. This year they went to:

Seniors: Charlotte McNally (Rushton) 57 points

Middles: James Wood (Saxton) 50 points

Juniors: Jonas Horton (Saxton) 55 points

Ashton won the GK competition 2009. The finalists were Freya Maynard, Benedict Meehan and Constance Gregory, with the cup awarded to Freya Maynard. This was particularly fitting as Freya is related to Lady Ashton, former resident of Vinehall. She would have been proud!
